

To Dare, like De Klerk

It was an awe inspiring evening when former South African President FW De Klerk graced the podium, as the guest speaker at Mastek's Executive Forum.

November 26, London

It was an awe inspiring evening when former South African President FW De Klerk graced the podium, as the guest speaker at Mastek's Executive Forum. The Forum was held on November 26 at The Ritz where guests from across the government, retail, financial services and insurance sectors attended. Senior executives from BT, Burberry the Home Office, Barclaycard, Sainsbury's, Munich Re and Lloyds were amongst several others listening in rapt attention to Mr De Klerk who spoke about his involvement in the reformation process within South Africa. The Nobel Prize winner touched upon at the key elements of an effective transformation programme. He drew parallels between present-day business complexities and the challenges he faced and overcame whilst working with Nelson Mandela to end apartheid in South Africa – a programme which was among the largest and most complex change programmes of recent times.