

Mastek Wins NASSCOM 'Women In Technology' Hackathon

READING, U.K. – April 12, 2018 – Mastekers made magic featuring among the top 3 winning teams, at the recently held all India NASSCOM Hackathon themed 'Build for India and Women in Technology.' Standing proud in third place at this competitive technology event were Anjali Sohoni, Abhishek Murkute, Ronak Bhatia and Sachin Patel from Mastek's Research and Innovation team.

Held at NASSCOM's headquarters in Noida on April 7 and 8, the Hackathon drew over 90 participating teams, of which twelve qualified for the finals. 'Krishi Saarthi,' an app aimed at contributing to the wellbeing of farmers was Mastek's winning app. It includes features such as effective crop management, financial planning and public-private partnership through jobs and skills match, all of which will contribute the GDP in India.

About Mastek

Mastek is an enterprise digital transformation specialist that engineers excellence for customers in the UK, US and India. We enable large-scale business change programmes through our service offerings, which include agile consulting, digital commerce, BI and analytics, application development, support and testing. Whether it is creating new applications, modernising existing ones or recovering failing projects, we help enterprises to navigate the digital landscape and stay competitive. Learn more by visiting www.mastek.com

Contact Information

Esperance Barreto, Content Manager – Mastek

esperance.barreto@mastek.com

Ph.: 07879802466.